POLARIS SOFTWARE LAB: ARUN JAIN

It's the Polaris of banking universe!

Forget SEI Capability Maturity Model (CMM) level 5, here we are talking about a company, which is the world's first to be appraised by the version 1.2 of Capability Maturity Model Integrated.

Polaris Software Lab, the first company to achieve the feat finds itself at 9th place in our list, with revenues worth Rs.10.32 billion. The company has constantly been looking to foray into new and potential sectors and is currently known for its competence in the Banking, Financial Services and Insurance domain (BFSI domain).

In the FY 2006-07 the revenues of the company crossed the Rs.1000 crore mark backed by its comprehensive expertise in the BFSI domain. Commenting on the milestone Mr. Arun Jain, Chairman & CEO, Polaris Software Lab, said, "A 1000 crore is a critical size in the journey of Polaris in its 14 years of existence. I am privileged to be a member of the team that architected, designed and executed the differentiated IP led strategy focused on Investment Banking, Corporate Banking, Retail Banking, Credit Cards, Enterprise Solutions and Risk & Treasury."

Of late, the company has shifted its focus from software services to product end. The company plans to fetch as much as 30% of its total revenues from product business in the next 18 months. ■
